

If you would like to be an Ironworker but you don't have any experience the best way to try and gain employment would be to apply for our Pre-Apprentice course. Unfortunately at this time there are no dates set for the course due to poor economic times and the construction of the new union hall. For more information about the Pre-Apprentice course you can check out the training/continuing education section on the Ironworkers website.